

Captain Thomas P. McIlravy

Commanding Officer,
Space and Naval Warfare Systems Center Chesapeake
Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command

Captain Thomas P. McIlravy grew up in Floral Park, New York. He graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1977 and received a Masters Degree in Material Logistics in 1985 from the Naval Postgraduate School. He is also a 1999 graduate of The Advanced Management Program at the Kenan-Flagler Business School, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Captain McIlravy was commissioned as an Ensign in the Supply Corps in 1977 and has served in a variety of assignments at sea, ashore and overseas. These assignments include: Staff of the Naval Academy Prep School, Newport, Rhode Island; Assistant Supply Officer, Naval Communications Station, Philippines; Assistant to Director of Supply Corps Detailing (PERS-4412a) in the Bureau of Naval Personnel; Assistant Supply Officer and Cargo Officer in USS Seattle (AOE-3); Supply Officer in USS Richard E. Byrd (DDG-23); Services Department Head and Training Officer, Navy Supply Corps School, Athens, Georgia; Material Department Director, Naval Supply Center, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; Director of Stock Point Systems, Fleet Material Support Office, Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania; Assistant Force Supply Officer, Supply Readiness and Afloat Supply Programs Officer, Commander Naval Air Force, U.S. Atlantic Fleet and as the Supply Officer in USS Nimitz (CVN-68).

He assumed command of the Space and Naval Warfare Systems Center Chesapeake November 10, 1999.

Captain McIlravy is qualified as a Surface Warfare Supply Corps Officer and as a Naval Aviation Supply Officer. He has been awarded the Meritorious Service Medal (four awards), Navy Commendation Medal (two awards), Navy Achievement Medal, and various campaign and unit awards.